Welcome! The Ramblers Walking for Health programme is a national network of short group health walks that are delivered by local schemes.

The Ramblers run this centrally through their dedicated Walking for Health team - providing advice, support and infrastructure, including a central database. When you register to take part in the Ramblers Walking for Health programme, the Ramblers and your local scheme use your personal information for administrative purposes to support your participation. Your information is therefore shared by the Ramblers and your local scheme.
